:( Well the huns got there ..the brand of football was disgraceful but effective for them. After Celtic having recieved plaudits in Europe for the attacking open minded football, coupled by the fantastic support given to Celtic at home and on travels, europe has now seen the darker side..Manchester Police will now also see what the huns bring to the european table ???

I fear Scottish football will now be disgraced on and off the park at this final..surely the huns cannot play a euro final with that 6-4-0 formation !!! if they come out then the Russians will take them apart, we are not a great team, however we have beat them twice on the hop lately..My prayers are now that we win this league and they get humped in UEFA final...

Come on the HOOPS lets do it

My sentiments exactly.....I recall Red Star Belgrade playing for penalties in a European final in the past, they were slated by all the media...will it happen this time?

Watty commented that 'Nacho' had missed a few in practice!!!

Manchester will not have seen the likes since Myra Hindly and Ian Brady prowled their streets....

BUT will the Scottish media report it??? I doubt it.

Ransacking, looting, street fights, trashing of pubs etc....

I hope the oil strike at Grangemouth continues so that they are forced to pay £5 a litre!!!

'IF' they achieve it and 'sneak a win in the UEFA then we will be subjected to several re-runs, replays etc every single week
